Keynote Presentation

Sam Winkler Portrays CSA President Jefferson Davis

An evening with Jefferson Davis
A discussion about my early life, being a student at West Point, my time at Fort Crawford, my first wife Sarah Taylor, meeting my second wife Varina, the Mexican War,
Secretary of War, Senator, Confederate
President, War of Northern Aggression, Surrender, chase and capture, prisoner, and later life.

Sam Winkler is a living history actor who lives in Roanoke, Virginia. He does portrayals from the 18th and 19th centuries. He has been doing portrayals for over 20 years. His favorite portrayal is President Jefferson Davis. He also does Wilson Hix, the owner of the Clover Hill Tavern at Appomattox Court House, where the parole passes were printed.

Sam is a member of the General William D McCain SCV Camp 584. He has been honored to receive the Judah P Benjamin Award and the Jefferson Davis Gold Medal presented by the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the National SCV Distinguished Service Medal for his portrayals.

Sam Winkler is a proud southerner!
